PRESIDENT'S NOTES

By Ray Storms

Happy New Year and may you attain all you desire.

In regards to Anthem, I spoke to Amanda at Retirement Services regarding issues of delay in receiving cards, wrong Primary Care Physician (PCP) and more. , You can now contact Anthem to correct these errors, Cards should be received next week. I had a few issues handled very quickly (1 hour).

If you need your Member ID but your card has not arrived yet, here are contact numbers:

- Medicare Retirees Call: (833) 848-8730
- Commercial Non-Medicare Call: (888) 831-2238
- If you are not satisfied with the answers provided by Anthem, then call Office of Retirement Services: (408) 794-1000

We are here to help with any and all issues that may arise. The other ways of getting information are to create an account on the Anthem member portal at www.anthem.com/ca/

The Retirement Solutions Working Group met on December 9th, 2019. The group discussed such topics as: recent actuarial valuations, amortization schedules, discount rate, investment strategies, and the budgetary impacts of retirement costs. They have asked for suggestions as how to better protect ourselves in the event of another recession. Our investments or other ways to invest. If you have any suggestions, please contact me and I will pass them along. If you know of a city that has fared well after the recession that too could be helpful. It is the Unfunded Liability that is the biggest problem.

Finally, if you have any Worker's Comp doctors that you like working with, please contact me directly. We have a shortage of good doctors and need new referrals.

As always stay safe and enjoy your retirement you earned it!

HEALTH & WELLNES

Submitted by Walter Bugna, VP of Fire from "Forks over Knives / Plant-Based Living"

Plant based diet may reduce cardiovascular death risk by 32%

New research adds to the mounting body of evidence that eating more plant-based foods and fewer animal ones may contribute to a healthy heart and cardiovascular system. Not only is eating fewer animal products good for the planet, but it is also good for your health, as more and more studies suggest.

Particularly, a growing body of evidence is showing that a plant-based diet could benefit cardiovascular health. By way of example, one such recent study found that eating more plant based foods slashes the risk of heart failure by 40%, while another one found that a vegetarian diet cuts the risk of heart disease death by the same percentage.

Now, a new study appearing in the Journal of the American Heart Association strengthens these findings, as researchers find that eating more vegetables, legumes, nuts, and whole grains and fewer animal products correlate with a much lower risk of dying of a heart attack or other serious cardiovascular event.

Casey M. Rebholz, Ph.D., who is an assistant professor of epidemiology at Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health in Baltimore, MD, is the lead author of the new study.

25% lower risk of death from any cause

The findings reveal that the participants who had the highest intake of plant based foods and scored the highest on the indexes were 16% less likely to have a cardiovascular condition — such as a heart attack, stroke, or heart failure — when the researchers compared them with adults who consumed the smallest amount of plant based foods.

High plant-based food consumers were also 25% less likely to die from any cause and had a 32% lower risk of dying from a cardiovascular condition.

"While you don't have to give up foods derived from animals completely, our study does suggest that eating a larger proportion of plant based foods and a smaller proportion of animal based foods may help reduce your risk of having a heart attack, stroke or other type of cardiovascular disease," says the lead researcher.

I'M DEAD. NOW WHAT?

Following our last Association meeting, we received a lot of requests asking us to re-publish the information below which has basic facts on our Retirement Fund. As such, we are publishing again.

DID YOU KNOW? POLICE & FIRE DEPARTMENT RETIREMENT PLAN INFORMATION

The world of pension funds and benefits is complex and confusing. Mastering the lingo alone is akin to learning an ancient dead language. That being stated, there are some interesting facts we'd like to highlight for you. As with all investment funds, the real-time data shifts daily. So, we will quote information from the Pension Fund's Consolidated Annual Financial Report (CAFR) which is in essence a one-year report card. The end date for the CAFR is June 30, 2019 and it was published November 12, 2019.

How much money is in the Pension Fund?

As of June 30, 2019, $3,774,379,00! Of that, $185,957,000 is set aside for the exclusive use of retiree medical benefits.

How much money did the fund increase by during the Fiscal Year?

The "net position" of the fund during the 2019 fiscal year increased by $365,574,000. Of this amount, the City put in $205,362,000 and active employees put in $38,126,000. Investment income grew the fund by $122,086,000.

How much money did the fund payout in the Fiscal Year?

Deductions from the plan totaled $249,906,000 for the fiscal year, representing a 0.8% increase in payouts. The chief driver of the increased payouts was an increase in the number of retired members, but this was counterbalanced by a decrease in health care insurance rates.

What is the investment rate of return goal for the Plan? How did it do?

Investment returns are critical to the Fund's ability to meet its obligation. Fund has a goal of hitting 6.75%, after deducting out investment fees. The fund earned a 4.3% return (after backing out investment returns) for the 2019 Fiscal Year. The median for public funds greater than $1 billion in the United States was a 5.4% return.

Now, when looking over time, the Fund had a three-year annual return rate of 5.1% and a five-year return rate of 2.8%.

How many retirees & beneficiaries are there?

There are a total of 2,318 people counted as retirees or thier beneficiaries. Of that 1,432 are police members and 886 are fire members.
